

Weekly Briefing

Message from Mr Butler

Good afternoon

We have successfully completed our first full week of the academic year!

The children in Chess particularly enjoyed their non-uniform day today - congratulations to all of you for winning the House point competition last term! Which house will emerge victorious this term I wonder?

A special shout-out to our youngest children who have managed their first full days and week as our new Giraffes and Pandas. Well done all of you! I would also like to commend our Year 6 pupils who took their secondary transfer tests this week.

We are looking forward to welcoming our Year 1 and 2 parents for the Meet the Teacher sessions next week. This year, we are changing the format slightly; we will start with a meeting in the hall at 3.30 pm for all parents, followed by the opportunity to visit your children's classrooms. For those parents with children in both Year 1 and Year 2, teachers will hold two consecutive sessions, so you can experience both year groups.

Please see details below of a Parent Information Evening, on Tuesday 30th September, on the impact of technology on children's mental health. We hope that many of you will be able to attend.

Over the summer, we took the opportunity to update our home-school agreement, particularly regarding our expectations for communication between parents and the school. I encourage you to read through the revised document, which can be accessed here.

Lastly, if any parents are interested in volunteering to listen to children read, we would be more than grateful for your support. Reading is a critical life skill, and parent involvement is invaluable. Please note that volunteers may not necessarily hear readers from their own child's class, but every bit of support contributes to our reading programme. We will send more details on this next week.

Thank you for your continued support, and wishing you all a lovely weekend!

Mr Butler

Parenting in the Digital Age Talk with Nova Eden-Founder, One Collective Power

You're Invited: Parenting in the Digital Age Talk

Please see attached invitation to an informative talk by renowned educator and speaker Nova Eden, one of the UK's foremost voices on children's mental health and digital wellbeing. Nova will explore how digital technology is reshaping childhood and most importantly, what parents can do to respond clearly and confidently. This event is highly recommended for all primary school parents in Beaconsfield, offering practical insights and guidance for navigating the digital world with your children.

This Week's Achievement Certificates

We would like to congratulate all the following children who were awarded an Achievement Certificate in our End of Week Celebration Assembly today. All of them have produced some great work, shown positive behaviour or demonstrated our school values of kindness, respect, resilience, honesty, tolerance or responsibility over the last week. Well done all of you!
